GOOD FELLOW NEWSIES DO GREAT JOB!

$2,407.76 Is Total In St. Joe

Lions Clubs May Yet Beat Old Record

St. Joseph and Lakeshore Lions Newsies sent the 1966 Good Fellow fund roaring past the $3,500 goal yesterday and when the final figures are in even last year's all time record may fall.

The job was accomplished under the double handicap of fewer Newsies and fewer points from which to hawk their special copies of The Herald-Press.

The Good Fellow fund stands at $3,924.76 today following receipt of $97 in the mail today to go with the $2,407.76 received in the Newsie sale.

When the Lions opened the sale yesterday noon there was an even $1,420 in the fund. The St. Joseph Lions brought in $1,891.05 and the Lakeshore Lions $516.71 to make the drive total $2,407.76.

The Lions were aiming at the $2,422 total they collected last year, the all-time record in 13 previous sales.

Shy by $15 of last year's total, chairman of both clubs predicted late returns would put the fund past the record set in the 1965 sale. Possibly last year's final total of $4,494 will be treasured.

WRITING CHECKS
Good Fellow bookkeepers will start writing the 350 or more checks to brighten Christmas for hundreds of young and old.

There were no easy roads to the Newsie triumph yesterday. The weather was neutral — gray and cold. A chilly breeze swept up from Lake Michigan. Those Lions stationed on Lake Boulevard took the brunt of the chill. But they were warmed by generous response of residents headed to and from the downtown area.

St. Joseph Lion President Franklin H. Smith summed up the attitude of his fellow Newsies when he said "by and large the average American is a generous person. We get a few turn-downs but we get a lot more sales. And some, I probably should say many, people contribute more than once."

Co-Chairman of the drive was John Lindenfeld who directed the attack from The Herald-Press office. When Newsies reported in, the money was immediately counted by Mrs. Betty Karsten, the Good Fellow bookkeeper. Mrs. Henrietta Smith and Mrs. Colleen Pillow.

The Lions had downtown St. Joseph pretty well blanketed but there were not as many Newsies on hand this year. No roll call is ever made. Some work for a few hours, some split shifts, working right after lunch and again just before dinner. Thirty-five St. Joseph Lions were recorded. Last year there were 44 out.

All leave their jobs for part of the day — some at a considerable sacrifice.

The bleak urban renewal area where such Newsie gold mines as the Tip Top Cafe, Brass Rail and the Idle Hour Bar used to be located are gone. The Whitcomb hotel where the Lions used to catch several dollars on their way out from the lunch is now closed.

FIREMEN BUY PAPERS
Noon headquarters this year was the St. Joseph Elks club. There Lions grabbed a quick lunch, got their papers and climbed aboard the St. Joseph fire department pumper. Terry McNeil drove the Newsies to their posts. Around the last thing he and his partner, Lt. Robert Mitchell did, was to buy a Good Fellow edition.

The champion salesman was Stevensville's Barney Yasdick who brought in $209.03 of Lakeshore's $516.71. Chairman

CHANGE IN MERCHANDISE: Jerry Ison is better known for selling hamburgers and shakes as proprietor of McDonald's drive-in. Yesterday he was in the role of a newsboy, selling hundreds of newspapers for the Benton Harbor Good Fellow fund. He rings up sale here for Mrs. Lennie Otte of Coloma. Ison also captained team of Lake Michigan College students, some of whom worked until 10:30 p. m. to boost the fund.

$4,013.90 Total For B.H. Area

Exchangites, And Helpers Great Team

They started at noon Friday, and it was 2 a.m. Saturday when two Exchange Club Newsies sold their last papers.

The combined efforts of more than 100 Newsies netted $4,013.90 for the Good Fellow fund. This huge stride pushed the Christmas appeal within $646 of its goal.

A corps of some 100 Newsies represented veterans of many previous sales, skilled in the tactics of selling Good Fellow papers and where to call. It also represented the enthusiasm of youth as volunteers from Lake Michigan college and Benton Harbor high school worked long after dark.

37TH SALE

Yesterday's campaign was the 37th by the Exchange Club and shot the total for all sales to nearly $100,000. This represents almost half of the money collected by the Good Fellow fund since its origin in 1922.

"We had a good product to sell," said Omar Ford, the Exchange chairman, "and the public was generous."

The Newsies peddled some 9,500 editions of The News-Palladium which were donated. The color cover by staff artist George Rorick stirred a lot of memories for the old timers who remembered when Jack Bailey, Clarence Butler, John Sterling and others were Newsies. The cover was a memorial to deceased members of Exchange.

THE CIAMP

Ed Miller appeared to duplicate his 1965 feat of being the champion individual salesman. He turned in $278.71. A great team effort by Lambda Sigma Phi fraternity and some high school students collected $389.73.

The youths were captained by Jerry Ison, an Exchange member better known as the hamburger man from McDonald's.

Harold Smith, brought in $203.30 at a late hour, then refused to quit. He coaxed Ison into more campaigning and they sold until 2 a.m., getting an additional $63.57 that was reported this morning to N-P auditor K. Henry Anderson.

Others high in the individual rankings were Lee Rossman $126.44, Frank Daniels $121.01, Vance Ferguson $101.07, and Tom Butler $100.50.

The sale total was about $350 less than last year, but the effort was just as intense perhaps more so.

"Some of the Newsies even risked life and limb at intersections crowded with traffic to make sales," said Ford.

SHORTAGE HURTS
The drastic shortage of half dollars undoubtedly worked against the Newsies. Sales that might have been 50 cents went for a quarter or a dime.

Among the major buys that helped make the sale a success were checks of $150 from Whirlpool Corp., $100 Modern Plastics, $50 Michigan Standard Alloys and many others ranging down to thin dimes.

Christmas mood for the sale was provided in an afternoon broadcast on WHFB, featuring the Benton Harbor high school choir directed by Dorothy Williams.

Fast Ruling Seen On JFK Book

NEW YORK (AP) — A Manhattan judge indicated today a speedy decision on Mrs. John F. Kennedy's suit to block publication of author William Manchester's book about the assassination of the president. Supreme Court Justice Saul S. Streit, ranking Manhattan justice, ordered Manchester and two publishers to appear before him Dec. 27 to show cause why an injunction against the book, "Death of a President," should not be granted.

Gets Jail For Setting Cats Afire

PULLMAN — John McCune, 17, of Pullman, pleaded guilty today to a cruelty to animals charge yesterday before Justice of the Peace Otto Schmidt of Allegan. He was sentenced to 60 days in the Allegan county jail and ordered to pay a $75 fine plus $12.50 costs.

McCune and three juveniles have been charged with setting cats in gasoline and setting them afire in Pullman on Dec. 5. The juveniles were turned over to juvenile court authorities and have been released to their parents.

Mother Is Charged In Fire Deaths

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Mrs. Irene Ogg, 29, accused of manslaughter in the death of one of two sons who died in a fire at the family home, Friday heard another son testify the "whole family" had at times locked the two boys in the bedroom in which they died.

The bodies of Phillip, 4, and Willie, 5, were found in the bedroom after fire swept the home Nov. 4. Mrs. Ogg is charged in the death of Phillip with "nonintentional killing by reason of the fact she violated duties which she owed the children."

The preliminary hearing before Municipal Judge Louis Simhauser went into its second day today.

Donations Keep On Rolling Along

Daily Haul Brings Cheer To St. Nick

The ulcers are back in place this morning.

No need to worry if we'd make the quota for our Good Fellow customers this year.

Between the super salesmanship of the St. Joseph and the Lakeshore Lions yesterday in their Newsie sale, and some hefty donations placed over the counter, the fund is in business in a great big way.

A separate story elsewhere in today's columns recounts the Lions' feat. We'll merely repeat here that the boys turned in a stunning $2,497.76; and needless to say, reiterate our thanks for that effort. It's the difference between a bang up job and a so-so performance.

The total on hand, counting the Newsie receipts, is $3,924.76 this morning.

Arriving under the donors' own steam is another $97 which breaks down in this manner:

Dentist Friend willingly parts with $5 every year, but he won't let us identify him too fully. Too bad really because most of you readers know him or know of him.

Killed In High-Speed Car-Crash

South Haven Man Is Victim

SAWYER — A South Haven man became Berrien county's 54th fatality of the year last night when his car smashed into a Brownstown road bridge abutment on I-94 at 70 miles per hour, according to New Buffalo state police.

Troopers said, Edwin Burrows, 38, 217 Van Buren street, South Haven, was dead on arrival in Memorial hospital in St. Joseph with a fractured skull and chest injuries. He was alone in the car.

Troopers said they are still investigating why Burrows ran off the right side of the road about a mile north of Sawyer and hit the abutment. They said there were no skid marks. Burrows' body had to be pried out of the car by troopers.

Mr. Burrows was born in South Haven, Mar. 31, 1928.

Survivors include his widow, Alice; two children, Virginia and David at home; his mother, Mrs. Blanche Burrows of South Haven; three brothers, Richard and Donald of South Haven and Robert of Chicago; and a sister, Mrs. Juanita Crawford of South Haven.

MASS MONDAY

Requiem high Mass will be celebrated Monday at 9 a. m. in St. Basil's Catholic church, South Haven. Fr. Frank J. Burger, pastor, will serve as celebrant.

Burial will follow in Lake View cemetery.

The Rosary will be recited Sunday at 7 p. m. in the Calvin funeral home, South Haven.

TOP SELLER EXPOSED: Barney Yasdick of the Lakeshore Lions was top seller of The Herald-Press Good Fellow edition, with $209.03, but this picture raises the question of his tactics. Actually, the patch over Otto Grau's eye was caused by a Christmas tree branch last Wednesday night. He reports the injury is not serious. Grau, co-chairman of the Lakeshore Newsie sale and owner of Grau Real Estate at Stevensville, paid Yasdick $10 for the paper. (Staff photo)

Claims Courthouse Financing Illegal

Coloma Resident Files Suit To Halt Sale Of Bonds

A suit attempting to halt sale of bonds for completion of the new Berrien county courthouse and prevent the county from making further payments to the building authority for the structure, has been filed in Berrien circuit court.

The suit was filed by Niles attorney Lee Boothby. Plaintiff in the action is Arthur C. Betz of the Coloma area. Betz, who claims he owns property in the county assessed at $6,100, contends that he and all other county taxpayers will be irreparably damaged if the county is not kept from completing the courthouse contract.

Betz resides at Lakewood Point at Paw Paw lake and is associated with a Chicago steel company.

OVER LIMIT

The suit claims the contract has been billed as a lease agreement, but is actually a time-payment contract. This, the suit says, makes the county indebted to the building authority for $250,000 annually—well over the statutory debt limit.

Calling the lease contract a subterfuge, Betz claims actual rental payments, based on a reasonable value for use, should be about $130,000 annually. Total cost of the project under the current agreement will be $5,500,000, Betz contends.

Betz claims the agreement is illegal as no debt was approved by voters, and asks that the contract be declared null and void.

Voters did approve a .4 mill levy for construction of the courthouse, but Betz's suit contends voters never approved actual building costs.

ADDITIONAL FUNDS
In May of 1964 Berrien supervisors approved an ordinance authorizing the building authority to issue $2,575,000 in bonds for construction of the

Entertainment Giant Falls

Death claimed Walt Disney, the Titan among Titans in the entertainment world, two days ago.

Some evidence of his standing in the trade is seen by the stock of Walt Disney Productions dropping $3 a share once the news of his inability to recoup from a lung removal operation became known.

His career was as kaleidoscopic as the medium through which he amassed fame and fortune.

He was born 65 years ago in Chicago. His parents moved shortly thereafter on to a Missouri farm, then returned to Chicago where the young Disney graduated from McKinley high school.

He moved to Kansas City to put a cartooning talent to work in animated film strips, later venturing on to Hollywood.

The first of his efforts, based on Lewis Carroll's famous book, "Alice in Wonderland," met with an indifferent response, and one company formed by Disney and his brother, Roy, to exploit the series went broke.

During this down swing in his career, Disney recalled watching a mouse scampering around the drawing board in his Kansas City studio.

He re-staged his movie cartoon plan as Mickey Mouse.

This failed to impress the movie tycoons who in the second half of the 1920s were in a ferment on how to adjust to the new dimension of sound films.

Disney broke this technological barrier in 1928 by squeaking his own into Mickey's first speaking engagement.

The industry took to the idea like a hound dog chasing a rabbit and by 1931, when the movies and the American economy at large were close to the undertaker's door, Disney Productions were racing through the entertainment heather.

The short or feature strip eventually expanded into the full length movie cartoon. Contrary to movie mogul predictions that the public would not sit still for a 90-minute cartoon show, "Snowwhite" became one of the small hits of all time. The same reception followed for subsequent cartoon shows.

Disney hit another jackpot once commercial TV had established itself in the early 1950s. He took a stalking horse with as much dramatic capacity as a telephone pole, named Fess Parker, and brought the legend of Davy Crockett into the American home.

Most historians put Davy down for a bum who stumbled into fame by notching some wilderness trails into Kentucky, but that's not the way the books for young fry report it. Neither did Disney who coined another pile of money by presenting Davy as the All American hero of all time.

Later "Mary Poppins" was to set the audience humming and the Disney cash registers overflowing.

Disneyland probably has brought more tourist dollars in the Los Angeles area than all of its many promotions put together and before he died Disney had assembled 27,000 acres, over 422 square miles, at Orlando, Fla., for a similar project on a vaster scale than the original park. His associates say this multi-million dollar program will continue to completion.

The man held something over 700 citations from foreign governments, civic organizations and the business community and the titles of some of his works have passed into vernacular of our day.

For being fired once as a free lance idea man for an advertising agency, Disney developed an unassailable formula for successful entertainment:

Swirl fantasy, color, humor, thrills, deep drama in one pot. Always season with a happy ending. Keep it fit for the entire family.

Credibility Gap Widens

One of President Johnson's principal problems these days is what is known as the "credibility gap", the difference between what he and his Administration say and what Americans will believe.

The gap was opened a little wider when the President announced that it's going to take another $10 billion before next June to run the war in Viet Nam.

Instead of $57 billion in defense expenditures during fiscal 1967, the President admits it will be $67 billion. What hurts most is that it is being palmed off as a "mistake in calculation."

That "mistake" happens to be 17.5 per cent of the total expense estimated for defense purposes last January. It also happens to be about 9 per cent of the total estimate of all government spending for fiscal 1967. Anyone who believes that a "mistake" of that magnitude just happens would believe most anything.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara says it wasn't a mistake, that the whole thing was due to a change in assumptions on which the original budget was based. Unfortunately, McNamara's stated reasons are just as difficult to believe as the blander assertion that it was all a big mistake.

McNamara, incidentally, has contributed to the credibility gap many times by assuring the country, after trips there, that all was great in Viet Nam and then calling for more troops a short time later.

The basic assumption that was changed was that the war in Viet Nam would be over by June 30, 1967. This founded on the facts of the situation as they existed when the budget was being prepared.

Even then the war in Viet Nam was being escalated. The Christmas and lunar new year truces were in the offing and efforts were afoot to get the war to the conference table. There was no real reason to believe that it would get there, and any realistic U.S. planning had to be based on the assumption that it would not get there.

So the defense budget figure, whether mistakenly calculated or based on an assumption that could not properly be made, was totally unrealistic. To make matters worse, the nation's entire economic policy for the current year has been based on this mistake. Inflation has been allowed to run unchecked.

So the credibility gap widens. Because the Administration wilfully or negligently underestimated its defense needs at the beginning of the year, the fiscal weapons to fight inflation were kept under wraps, and the American people have had to pay the hidden tax of inflated prices.

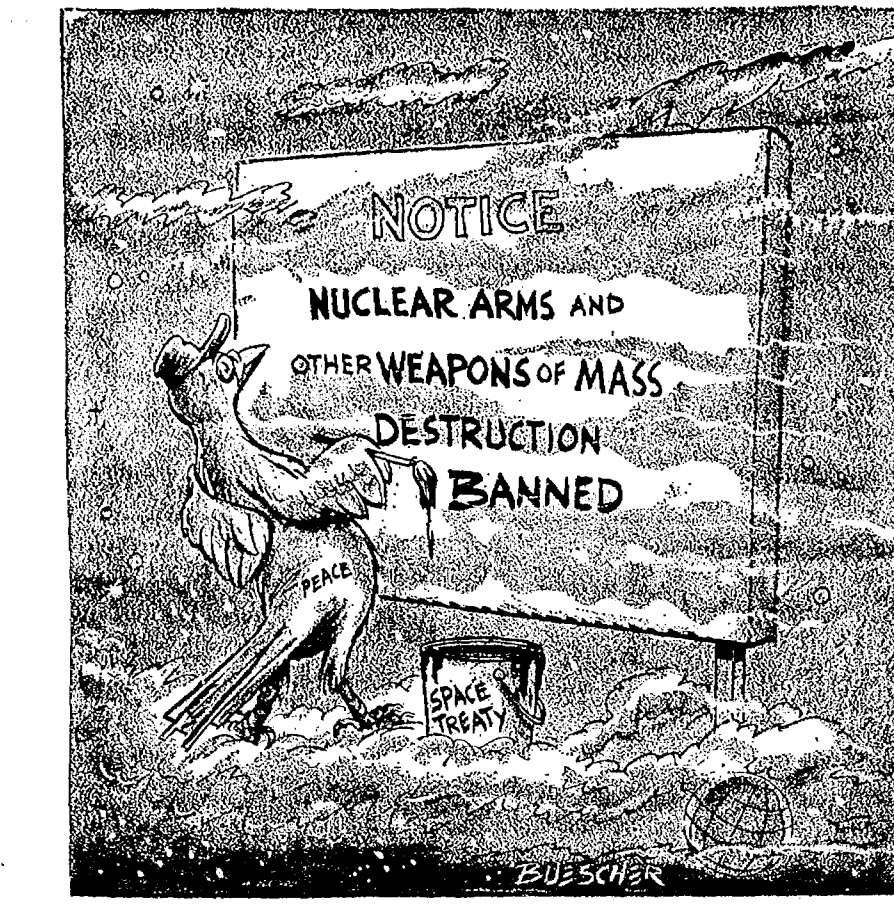

Newspaper Bug Bugger

The latest news in the scientific warfare against insects proves the value of journalism. It seems that a Harvard biologist found a substance in the pages of the Boston Globe and the Wall Street Journal that is inimical to certain bugs.

Named the "paper factor," the substance has been found to derive from the balsam fir wood from which the papers' newsprint was made. Isolated and refined, "paper factor" is better than a machine gun at knocking off the cotton stainer bug, which destroys up to half the cotton crop in Asia, Africa and South American each year.

"Paper factor" prevents the insects' metamorphosis into mature adults, and causes early and unlamented death. Scientists think this factor, given to the world by newspapers, may help them kill other important pests without harming higher animals.

Never let it be said that newspapers are not a power for good!

Letters To The Editor...

Editor,
The Herald-Press.

PARABLE FOR BRIDGMAN

The following incident occurred at a service club luncheon wherein the speaker was allowed but 30 minutes for his address.

The program was a discussion on time, space and motion. When called upon to introduce the speaker, the program chairman, an old time graduate of Yale, defined, interpreted and described the meaning of the letters Y, A, L, E, using up five minutes for each letter or a total of 20 minutes of the speaker's allotted time period. When the time arrived the speaker arose, thanked the M. C. and in an easy tone of voice loud enough to be heard by everyone said:

"Gentlemen, I am thankful indeed that your program chairman is not a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology," adding, "So I will confine my remarks to that of space and motion as time has been taken care of."

A parallel to the foregoing concerns a meeting of a Business and Professional Woman's club, where immediately following the opening order via the gavel, she, the president, proceeded to discuss her 80-year girlhood in a thrilling narrative of the good old days whereby the essential reading of the minutes of the previous meeting were held over until the following regular meeting. The progress report was also pigeon-holed for a future date. In short the meeting started with Madam Doe on her feet and finished with Madam Doe, still on her feet.

There are among us many such individuals who once in a position of authority can, but won't sit back and learn by listening. Most of such violations of decorum and manners are committed by graduates of the horse and buggy days and who have no conception of the relationship of the swift march of progress to our young people of the present decade. As things change, so must the people change and meet present day standards, resolving challenges as they confront us.

Yesterday is a dead duck. Time and Progress march along together and we must get in step and march along with both.

Whether it be the speaker, orator, preacher, narrator, essayist or an interested spectator, a time limit should be placed upon their oratory so as to thwart any attempt to project a staccato, machine-gun-type of yakety-yak into an audience who through culture ramin quiet, often bored to tears, yawns and snores.

Henry Adams wrote,

"Nothing in education is so astonishing as the amount of ignorance it accumulates in the form of inert facts."

Another author named, Prior stated, "They never taste who always drink, and they always talk who never think."

Both these gentlemen know, or knew that nothing is learned by talking, but only by listening. These facts alone should convince us that an old talking machine, vintage of 1900, equipped with an ancient record and blunt, used up, wobbly needle ought to be retired and with the horse and buggy placed in some museum where the visitor can glance a squint into the realm of what many believe were the good old days.

So, why not apply the time limit system as a braking mechanism to those who talk too much and too long. The Bible states, "For if a man thinketh he knoweth anything, he knoweth nothing." 1 Cor. 8:2.

William A. Rodgers, Bridgman.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

In Czarist Russia there once dwelled a rabbi with such a golden voice that everybody clamored to hear him. In his sleigh he made a triumphal tour. In every city he visited, pretty girls pelted him with roses and rich merchants plied him with compliments and gifts.

Outside one town the rabbi's faithful driver stopped the sleigh and suggested, "Rabbi, for once I'd like to be the one receiving all the honors and attention. Just for tonight, change clothes with me. You be the driver and I'll be the rabbi."

The preacher, a merry and generous soul, agreed, but added, "Remember, clothes do not make the man. If you're asked to explain some difficult passage of the Talmudic Laws, see that you don't make a fool of yourself."

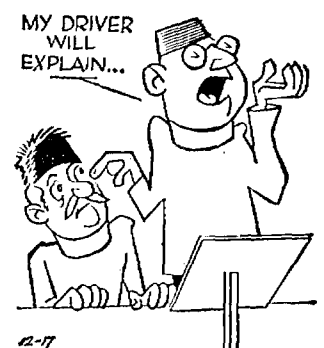

The exchange was effected. When the two men arrived at their destination, the bogus rabbi was received with tumultuous enthusiasm, and obviously enjoyed every minute of it. Furthermore, since he had heard the rabbi's speech a hundred times, he delivered it faultlessly.

Then, however, came the dreaded question period. Sure enough, an aged scholar arose and propounded a tricky, delicate question. The real rabbi in the back of the hall groaned,

"Now he'll make a fool of himself. But the driver was equal to the occasion."

"A fine scholar you are!" he scoffed. "Why, your problem is such a simple one that even the old dull-witted fellow who drives my sleigh must know the answer. Driver, come up here to the platform and answer this poor fellow!"

The artist Utrillo is reputed to have saved the Mona Lisa for the Louvre when the Nazis occupied Paris by persuading them it was a copy. "The original was spirited out of France months ago," he assured them. And they believed him.

speaking of YOUR HEALTH

By Lester L. Coleman, M. D.

An ulcer is a sore or break in the skin or mucous membrane that lines the mouth, stomach and intestines.

Ulcers can occur in all parts of the body, in the mouth or on the cornea of the eye as readily as they can in the stomach.

Wherever the ulcer is, it forms a crater or a trench and, therefore, exposes the underlying tissue to Dr. Coleman infection.

Ulcers of the legs, feet and toes deserve particular attention. Too often they are considered insignificant and are neglected for long periods of time, thus complicating treatment and prolonging the disability that results.

Arteriosclerosis, varicose veins, diabetes, thrombosis (clot), phlebitis and many neurological disorders may be responsible for ulcers of the legs. Injuries, burns by fire or chemicals and frostbite are also frequent causes.

POOR CIRCULATION

Poor circulation of the blood, especially in the elderly, can cause a simple but neglected scratch or cut to develop into a troublesome ulcer.

The healing of leg ulcers depends on the control of infection and the increase of the blood supply to the affected part.

The application of salves on ulcers of the arms or legs may soothe the conscience, but will rarely alone affect a permanent cure or prevent a recurrence unless the basic cause of the ulcer is understood and remedied.

BED REST HELPS

Bed rest to improve circulation is valuable for the healing of the ulcers. Antibiotics are used to counteract the bacterial infections that delay healing. Special enzymes are used to help nature remove from the ulcers the debris which tend to impair the healing process.

Antiseptic solutions enthusiastically recommended by well meaning friends can sometimes be harmful. Powerful antiseptic agents indiscriminately chosen can destroy nature's delicate healing mechanisms.

WET DRESSINGS

BENEFICIAL

Wet dressings may be beneficial, but must only be applied at the discretion of the doctor. Oversoaking ulcers can retard the progress of healing.

Many new drugs are now used successfully to dilate the blood vessels of the leg in order to increase the healthy healing circulation.

Surgery of the sympathetic nervous system, a special division of the nerves of the spine, is carefully chosen in special cases to increase blood supply.

THREE RULES

Three prime rules can prevent prolonged painful, incapacitating complications of leg ulcers.

First: Any break in the skin of an individual known to have poor circulation should be treated by a physician.

Second: Salves, ointments and all medicines except those for simple emergency cleaning should be specifically chosen by the doctor.

Third: The underlying cause of impaired circulation must be determined and remedied.

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH — A test for color vision is a "must" for children starting school.

These columns are designed to relieve your fears about health through a better understanding of your mind and body. All the hopeful new advances in medicine reported here are known to doctors everywhere.

Your individual medical problems should be handled by your own doctor. He knows you best.

Opening lead—three of hearts.

In most hands you don't have to do anything spectacular to get the best possible result. All you need to do is keep on making the right bid or the right play whenever it's your turn and nature will take care of the rest.

For example, take this deal which occurred in a Life Masters pair championship. It was easy enough to make three no-trump; the trick was to make four against the normal heart lead by West. The extra 30 points would certainly mean very little in the ordinary rubber bridge game, but, in duplicate, an extra trick is frequently worth its weight in gold.

Those declarers who exercised proper technique were rewarded with a good match point score for making four no-trump. They ducked the heart lead when East played the queen, and won the return with the ace.

When they now played a low spade to the queen, East generally ducked, and when South returned to his hand with a diamond and led another spade to the king, East took it with the ace and returned his last heart to the king.

Declarer next cashed the jack of spades, hoping for a 3-3 division, but West showed out. Three more rounds of diamonds, ending in dummy, permitted declarer to throw East into the lead with a spade and force a club return away from the king. As a result, South made four no-trump.

Note that if South wins the first heart lead West can later overtake East's heart return and shift to a club to destroy the potential endplay.

Note also South's method of dealing with the spades by leading low twice towards dummy. This play made no difference in the actual hand, but it might very well have gained the extra trick without the endplay if West had been dealt the A-x of spades.

BORN TODAY

Born into a Quaker family near Amesbury, Mass., in 1807, and growing up as a poor farm boy, John Greenleaf Whittier was a self-educated poet whose literary reputation grew slowly but steadily throughout his lifetime.

He became active in political reform early in life and was an earnest abolitionist, contributing articles to newspapers in the Boston area and writing anti-slavery pamphlets, before becoming editor of various New England newspapers and magazines.

He is probably best remembered for his nature-poetry, many of them celebrating New England life — "Snowbound" — which are faithful, fresh and beautiful without being quite original; his "Barclay of Ury" and "Barbara Freitchie" rank high among ballads of moral heroism; but it is when he soars into spiritual, mystic spheres — "My Psalm" — that his notes come clear, sweet and true.

Whittier also wrote a number of famous hymns, including "From Greenland's Icy Mountains."

Others born this day include artists Paul Cadmus and Jacob Landau, chemist Sir Humphrey Davis, financier William M. Martin Jr., author Erskine Caldwell, and dummy "Charlie McCarthy."

Those born Dec. 18 include violinmaker Antonio Stradivari, composer Edward MacDowell, playwrights Abe Burrows and Christopher Fry, actress Betty Grable, World's Fair developer Robert Moses, West Berlin's Mayor Willy Brandt.

IT HAPPENED TODAY

On this day in 1938, the famed dummy Charlie McCarthy, with Edgar Bergen doing the talking, made his first appearance on a national radio show.

On Dec. 18, 1787, New Jersey ratified the proposed Constitution of the United States.

St. Joseph Firm Wins Refund In Hospital Case

STEVEN D. PJESKY

S.J. Senior Named For West Point

Surprise Gift From Congressman

Congressman Edward Hutchinson today had a surprise, early Christmas gift for Steven D. Pjesky, 17-year-old St. Joseph high school senior.

The Congressman announced that Pjesky has received a principal appointment to the U.S. Military Academy at West Point.

Hutchinson said the district's quota at West Point was filled last October when other academy appointments for 1967 were announced. But a late-developing vacancy at the Military Academy gave Hutchinson the opportunity to appoint a principal and five alternates.

Pjesky, the principal appointee, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Pjesky, 279 Windsor road, Fairplain. He is a member of the varsity basketball squad and also participates in golf and band. He is a member of the executive board of the Varsity club.

He is an active member of the Young Peoples group of St. Matthew's Lutheran church, Benton Harbor.

First alternate is William M. Glasgow III of Jonesville.

Second alternate is Robert A. Hermann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Hermann, 539 Wagner court, Benton Harbor. He attends Benton Harbor high school where he is secretary of the Kiwanis Key club and a member of Mu Alpha Theta Math club.

Fifth alternate is Richard Lee Hermann, son of Mr. and Mrs. August L. Brooks, route 1, Allegan. He is a National Honor Society member.

Third alternate is Charles W. Fletcher, Jr., of Centerville; fourth alternate is Bruce E. Caswell of North Adams.

$5,963 Use Tax Paid In February

Board's Ruling Affects Others

The State Tax Appeals board ruled Friday a subcontractor who had a part in construction of the Berrien County Hospital annex is not required to pay the state 4 per cent use tax on materials that went into the building.

The board ordered the Michigan Department of Revenue to refund $5,963.57 to City Plumbing Co. of St. Joseph. The firm, one of nine subcontractors on the annex job, had paid that sum under protest last Feb. 8 upon demand by the state revenue department.

The eight other subcontractors, all under orders from the revenue department to pay use tax on materials they used on the annex job, have been awaiting the decision. They all, reportedly, have withheld payments until the tax appeal board decided City Plumbing's appeal.

Attorneys John Globensky and Henry Gleiss of the Benton Harbor law firm of Gray, Gray, Globensky and Gleiss tried the case for City Plumbing before the three-man appeal board last April 20 in the Berrien county courtroom.

Friday's decision by the appeal board still is subject to possible appeal to the Michigan Supreme Court by the attorney general.

The appeal board held the use tax — equivalent to retail sales tax — was not applicable because the hospital annex was built for use as a county facility.

"The ultimate purpose of this construction was to create a hospital addition for Berrien county, arranged for by deferred payment," the decision said.

Construction for a governmental unit is exempt from the tax, under provisions of the law.

The state revenue department had contended the annex was not sold to a hospital operated by an entity of the government, but that the material was "used in the construction of a building for a corporation (Doyle & Associates) which did not enjoy a tax exempt status."

NINE CHILDREN NEED A HOUSE

No Place To Hang Stockings

By KEITH WOOD
Staff Writer

Nine Lakeside children may have no place to hang stockings this Christmas. They may not even have a place to sleep.

Their father and older brother were killed in a car-train crash more than a year ago and since then the children and their mother have bounced from place to place seeking a permanent home and trying to keep the family together.

The problem reached crisis proportions two weeks ago when they were evicted from their Lakeside home after it was condemned.

The mother, Mrs. Geneva West, 41, said Friday they seem to have reached the end of the road. She has been unable to find anyone who will rent a house to a widow with nine children.

She appealed to juvenile authorities after the eviction, saying she had no money and there seemed to be nothing she could do but turn her children over to the court.

Juvenile authorities cleared the way for social security and veterans payments and money is no longer the major problem, she said. However, even though she can now pay rent, no home is available for her family.

The nine children have never been separated and juvenile authorities said they would do everything in their power to see that she is able to keep them. However, they too are unable to find a home and it again appears that the children may have to go separate ways.

Since leaving their last home, Mrs. West and her children have stayed with her sister, Mrs. Jervold Hoover of New Buffalo. However, one of Mrs. Hoover's children became seriously ill Thursday night and the West family was forced to leave.

TEMPORARY REFUGE

They have taken temporary refuge in Mary's hotel, near the City of David. They spent Friday night in a single room with three double beds, but new quarters must be found soon.

Officials said the hotel has agreed to accept calls from persons who may help Mrs. West. Anyone who has a home they could rent may call WA 6-7814.

The children, six boys and three girls, range in ages from three to 16. The youngest, Rickie, suffers from a heart condition.

The eldest of her children, Carl West, 20, was killed when he drove his car into the path of a Chesapeake and Ohio train at the east road crossing near Lakeside July 24, 1965. Her husband, Carley West, 45, died a short time later of injuries suffered in the crash.

Boy Beaten, Robbed In Hall Park

An 18-year-old white youth told Benton Harbor police early today he was attacked and robbed of $10 by four Negroes in Hall park.

Patrolman James Jackson said Jerry Ingram, 1272 Pipestone street, Benton township, was released at Mercy hospital for treatment of injuries sustained when he was kicked and beaten. The assailants also tried to throw him into Ox creek, Ingram said.

Treated at the hospital yesterday was Richard Menzer, 76, Hornack hotel, who was injured when he tripped on a curb at Fourth street and Territorial road.

Police credited careful driving by a Galien motorist with preventing serious injury to a six-year-old boy who ran into the side of a car. The boy then ran from the scene at Pipestone and Washington and was overtaken by the driver Warren H. Reum, route 1, Galien. Police said the boy was uninjured. He was watching a large group of junior high students who were blocking sidewalks, instead of blocking alert for traffic, police said.

Pay Record $406,760 Dividend

Climax Of St. Joe S&L Anniversary

The St. Joseph Savings & Loan association finalizes its 50th anniversary celebration by distributing a record dividend to its shareholders Monday.

Herbert C. Kerlikowske, president, said the 100th semi-annual dividend of $406,760 goes to over 5,800 shareholders.

It brings the 1966 total payment to $760,889.

Monday's payment is based on a 4 1/2 per cent rate adopted July 1 by the association.

The total distribution for this year is 17 per cent above the 1965 payment which up to that time had been a record pay-out.

The St. Joseph S&L's total assets topped the $21 million mark on Dec. 1. The management increased its reserve account by $150,000 this year to $1,752,000.

Walter Rutz, secretary-treasurer, said the shareholders' annual meeting has been scheduled for Jan. 9.

Man Released By Zaban, Re-Arrested

A man released from a felony charge last month by Assistant Prosecutor Seymour Zaban because Benton Harbor police were tardy in producing him for preliminary examination has been re-arrested.

Prosecutor John Hammond yesterday authorized assault with a dangerous weapon and carrying a concealed weapon charges against Elbert J. Rowling, 39, of 132 Bond street, Benton Harbor.

Although the charges are different than the original charge of assault with a deadly weapon, they stem from the same alleged incident, a shooting in a "flats" restaurant on Nov. 12.

The original charge against Rowling was dismissed and he was freed Nov. 25 by Zaban, prosecuting the case in Benton Harbor municipal court. Zaban said the city police, complain-

Federal Funds May Be Delayed Year - Or More

By JERRY KRIEGER
County-Farm Editor

Faced with delay of a year or more in getting federal funds with which to start developing a comprehensive plan for Berrien county, the Berrien County Planning commission has agreed to ask the funds from the county government in order to start the planning job at once.

A request for $10,000 to $14,000 probably will be submitted to the county board of supervisors in January, to take the place of a $14,000 request in federal funds.

Chairman John Chapman said at a commission meeting Thursday $10,000 or $11,000 in local funds would be equivalent to $14,000 in federal funds, because no federal and state fees would be looped off local money.

The commission already has $7,000 on hand from its 1966 budget as its share of the first year's work on a county master plan. The federal grant would be a two-thirds matching share.

Commission members at their meeting yesterday said it appears federal funds for such grants likely will be frozen for a year to 18 months. The State Community Planning division in Lansing currently is holding up 82 planning grant requests from various units in the state at the request of Washington. The Berrien request, submitted in October, is among them.

If the county commission can get $10,000 to $11,000 local money now to foot the full bill for the first year of developing the county plan, it can have its choice of planning consultants. It also will be better able to deal with requests for approval of plans from local units at an earlier date. The county commission must approve requests from all subordinate units in the county for federal project grants.

The county commission announced at its meeting that it has started a series of discussions with leaders and representatives of various phases of the county's economic and educational life.

Purpose of the discussions, Chairman Chapman explained, is to obtain the views and thinking of such leaders on the future course of developments in this county.

The first of these meetings was held last week with representatives of industry, and a session is being arranged for January with financial institutions. Other categories that will be sounded out during the series include agriculture, education, business and utilities.

In other actions, the commission reported it has narrowed the field of consulting firms it is interviewing for the job of preparing the county comprehensive plan. Still in the running are Development Planning Co. of Pontiac and William S. Lawrence & Associates of Chicago.

The commission hopes to make a final selection at its January meeting, Chapman said. Actual hiring of the consulting firm will be dependent either on getting the added local funds to start the planning job now or the eventual grant of federal funds.

AROUND OUR TOWNS

Santa Isn't Always Merry On Old Christmas Cards

SANTA CLAUS, as depicted on Christmas cards, has not always been old, round, bearded, jolly-looking and attired in red.

Many different kinds of Santas are shown in a Christmas card display now at the Webster Memorial public library at Decatur. The cards and related materials show how the concept of Christmas celebration, especially as it relates to Santa Claus and the giving of gifts, has changed over the past 125 years.

A drawing in the New York Mirror of Jan. 2, 1841 depicts "St. Nicholas" in the act of descending a chimney. He is young and slender, has a goatee, is wearing a three-cornered hat and smoking a clay pipe.

Many cards show Santa dressed in brown, green or blue. Others show him in a fur suit and others show him dressed in a full-length fur trimmed coat.

Many of the older cards have birds, butterflies, or flowers prominently displayed and barely recognizable as Christmas cards.

Another drawing, taken from a magazine, shows Santa reading from a huge book that lists the names of all children. It is obvious from the expression on his face that talk about his separating the good children from the bad is not an idle threat.

Corey Will Run For Alderman

Seeks Jones' Post In South Haven

MARSHALL COREY

SOUTH HAVEN—Marshall Corey, a 50-year-old associate broker with Clarke Realty, South Haven, announced his candidacy for second ward alderman here yesterday.

Corey made his announcement within a few hours after incumbent council member, Merton Jones, said he would not run for another four-year term.

Corey opposed Jones for the job in the 1963 city primary elections but was defeated. He is a Republican.

Meanwhile, four other expiring positions on the council, including the mayor's job, lack candidates with only two weeks remaining for filing of petitions.

Expiring terms are those of Mayor Glenn Sperry, two years; first ward alderman William McDonald, second ward alderman Alfred Baars, all four years; and third ward alderman Irving Tucker, two years.

Jones and Baars have said they will not run. The others remain undecided.

Arrested In Shooting Of Ex-Husband

Quarrel At Home Near Coloma

Elsie L. Ballard, 46, route 4, Lakewood drive, Coloma, was arrested by Berrien county sheriff's deputies in connection with the Friday noon shooting of her ex-husband, Senle Mosley Williams, 51, of the same address.

She was arrested later before Benton Harbor Municipal Judge Elizabeth Forhan on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder, demanded examination, and was remanded to jail after failing to post $5,000 bond.

Williams was listed in "satisfactory" condition early today at Watervliet community hospital, where he underwent surgery Friday on a 22-caliber bullet wound in the stomach.

Sheriff's deputies recovered a 22-caliber single-shot rifle and four spent cartridges at the Ballard residence. The shooting apparently followed a quarrel, according to statements given by Elsie.

Elsie Ballard told Deputy John Gillespie and Cpl. Irvin Hudak that Williams, a boarder at her home, had arrived at the home and beat her. Williams told deputies an argument developed over money.

The shooting occurred in the home. Williams said he went to the nearby Bill Tabert residence to await an ambulance.

Elsie Ballard was lodged in Berrien county jail after failing to immediately post bond.

Lions Clubs Put Fund Over Top

Herald-Press Sale Is Success

Otto Grau brought in a bank money sack as big as a stuffed turkey filled with greenbacks, coins and checks.

Gräu said he was certain there would be more money turned in today from some of his salesmen. He said the Lakeshore Lions didn't list individual sales.

Top St. Joseph Lion salesman was Roy Liskey, snug in his red Santa vest. He collected $150.07. His partner, Dick Hooker, turned in an even $100.

Hooker repeated a complaint first heard last year. Shortage of 50 cent pieces really hurts, he said.

Lions themselves will argue over the individual sales list because the team of Russ Taylor and Harvey Waller brought in a total of $166.64 which they said should be listed as $82.32 each. They had the new Berrien county courthouse with its concentration of county offices and reported a warm reception.

JUST GROWLED

Lou Kerlikowski, at his old stamping ground in front of Loren Troost's furniture store, didn't wait to eat lunch but started selling right away. The rest of the Lions newbies could see him across the street from the Elks but just growled.

Kerlikowski collected $78.53 and then added a personal check of $21.47 to make his total come out to $100 even. Don TeRoller, hoisting it around the bend of Broad street, hit $85.57.

Bob Brown, who claims he holds down the coldest corner in town, rang up $82.01 while standing on the steps (and sometimes in the lobby) of the Peoples State bank.

Lion Jack Lents, Herald-Press advertising manager, was also working Main and Niles. An elderly woman told him she'd buy a paper if he would help her across the street.

Lents, of course, was more than happy to oblige. After crossing the street, the lady told Jack she was 93 years old, gave him 50 cents and took her Good Fellow edition of the Herald-Press.

Tom Hrach, one of the long time Lions club members, who is just behind charter members Kerlikowski and Martin Kasichke, brought in $73.84.

Smith, who the Lions claim is the biggest president of any Lions club in Michigan, came in late but only after he collected $75.

Charlie McLoehlin dumped $63.07 on the cashier's desk. Other newbies reported in with the following amounts: Bob McKay, $31.23; Martin Kasichke, $43.92; Bruno Roti, $22.01; Walt Gephart, $60; Bill Dankert, $50; A. J. McDonald, $42.82; Bob Dearing, Sr. and Jr., $51.82; Bill Lang, $40; Ted Wisneski (H-P circulation manager), $50; Frank Hill $19.65;

Ray Dumke $38.16; Morrie McMurray $32.31; George Jacon $41.45; the Rev. E.A. Jacon $33.49; Russ Yount $21.85; Jack Lents (co-chairman) $54.10; John Biek $60; Dave Fister $8.35; Morrie Peke $4.37; Warren (Joe) Johnson $4.37; Jimmie Butt $45; Herman Gersonde $25.24; Dale Jeffers $5; and Bill Rohn $48.83.

Arrested In Alleged Fraud

F. Joseph Beal II of St. Joseph, real estate developer and one-time president of a former area firm known as Underground, Inc., was arrested today on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

The warrant for his arrest was based on a charge that a crawler crane was allegedly sold to two different individuals. Berrien county authorities planned to arraign Beal today before St. Joseph Municipal Judge Maurice Weber.

Beal was arrested today by Andrew Novikoff, chief investigator for the Berrien county prosecutor's office. Novikoff said the charge was based on a complaint by Morris Kalish, doing business as April Development company of Gary, Ind. Kalish contended Beal sold him a crawler crane that Beal had previously sold to J.V. Burkett Construction company. Beal lives at 4101 Lakeshore drive.

person, Andrew Apple, who for years was the Mr. Plumber in St. Joe.

Bob Stahl manages two trucking lines here in town and he brought in $25 checks from each of them. The outfits are Manufacturers Freight Forwarding and Lakeshore Motor Transit. That's hauling in a lot of cheer, isn't it? We might add this is a perennial delivery.

ABSENT LION

Our Absent Lion sends up a $10 check from his Florida home. We're going to try to get him up here in some upcoming season to join the Newsie effort with his former St. Joe club members.

Mrs. Jennie Maffei, of route 3, Stevensville, is another Helper with many years of service to her credit. She adds $2 to the Good Fellow basket.

Winding up today's effort is $20 from a swell guy who suffers more than does Larry Bell, the insurance man, when Ohio State falters on the gridiron. He's Gates P. Thruston, who heads up the Dayton office of the Abitibi Paper company, one of our newspaper suppliers. Normally, Gates and Ye Ed bet the U-M and OSU tilt, with the loser paying to the Good Fellows. Somehow, we were crossed up this year. So Gates says, "Take it. I would have been clobbered anyway."

That's it for this morning, Friends.

However, there is another week in which to labor in the vineyard. So as Deano Martin says, "Keep them cards and letters a coming."

Niles' 57 per cent second half enabled them to finish the night with a .411 shooting mark on 30 field goals in 73 shots.

The victory was the fourth straight for the Vikings this season while the Bears, who lost to Don Buchanan next Tuesday 32 per cent of their shots. After a 14-for-35 first half, the Lancers cooled off and were able to connect on only six of 24 in the second half.

It was just the other way for Brandywine with the Bobcats able to sink only eight of 42 shots in the first half then coming back with 14 field goals in 38 attempts in the second half.

Zache was the leading scorer for Brandywine with 21 points coming on 10 field goals and a free throw. Denny Fauson paced the losers with 20 points on six field goals and eight free throws. McCalla totaled 15 points in six fielders and three free throws.

The defeat was the second in a row for the Lancers after winning their first two games and gives them a 1-1 league record. Brandywine is 1-1 in league play and 1-2 overall.

The victory gives River Valley a 2-0 loop record and a 3-0 overall mark while Coloma remains winless in two games, both with the conference.

River Valley scored a 53-21 win in the junior varsity game. Tom Briggs' 20 points paced the junior Mustangs.

Santa and the Giant Fighter

By Lucrece Beale

CHAPTER ELEVEN
THE MAGIC WORDS

Synopsis: Billy meets an underground gnome who sends him to the moon cave in a Go-Bucket.

The cracking, rattling, crashing clangor of the Go-Bucket dropping through the earth frightened the dragon nearly out of his wits. He shivered and shook. His eyes rolled back in his head and he nearly swallowed his long forked tongue.

Then he remembered that he was a dragon (a fierce looking dragon, at that, the giant had told him so) and he said to himself, "If I think like a dragon I will act like a dragon."

He thought quickly of all the dragons he had known and how they made rumbling noises like thunder and lashed with their tails and shot fire and smoke from their nostrils.

At that moment the Go-Bucket slammed-banged into the cave. Billy the Giant Fighter jumped out and stood there waving his sword.

The dragon reared up on his hind legs. He thumped his ponderous tail and roared. He shut his eyes and took a great breath and went "A-a-a-h!"

Billy expected a sheet of flame to burst from the dragon's jaws but there was not a single spark. The dragon cleared his throat and tried again. He huffed and gargled and rumbled deep in his innards and went "A-a-a-h!" A teeny, tiny wispy of smoke drifted from his nostrils. That was all.

"You're not a fire breathing dragon at all," exclaimed Billy. "I'm not afraid of you!"

"I may not breathe fire," snarled the dragon, "but my tail can smash you to pieces!" He lashed out furiously with his sharp, pointed tail.

Billy threw his hands up to guard his face. He need not have bothered. The dragon's tail was not lashing back and forth. It was pumping up and down like a friendly puppy's and was doing no harm at all.

"Why, I don't believe you're even a dragon," taunted Billy. He poked the monster on the Billy the Giant Fighter confronted the dragon.
